

Eisenhower Sweeps Primary In New York And In Pennsylvania

By JACK BELL

PHILADELPHIA — (AP) — Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower's whopping popularity poll victory in the Pennsylvania primary prompted demands by his backers today for a lion's share of the state's 70 GOP Presidential nominating votes.

But backers of Sen. Robert A. Taft of Ohio, the general's chief opponent for the Republican nomination, called the results "meaningless" so far as the division of convention votes is concerned.

Victor By 700,000

Eisenhower, completing his duties as North Atlantic commander before returning to the United States, banged out what may be on the final count a 700,000 vote victory over Taft in the popularity race. Former Gov. Harold E. Stassen of Minnesota, on the ballot with Eisenhower, trailed in third place in the primary election yesterday.

It was a one-sided contest from the start, since Taft kept his name off the ballot and urged his backers not to write it in. He said the results wouldn't affect the delegate lineup.

An Associated Press survey of the 70 GOP delegate candidates including 10 chosen previously at large, indicated that 19 lean toward Eisenhower, 17 favor Taft, and 27 are uncommitted, with seven contests still undecided.

In the Pittsburgh area, where Taft and Eisenhower slates met in the state's only head-on clash for delegates, Eisenhower forces had won five delegates and Taft one. A Taft man was leading for the seventh place and the eighth was in doubt.

No Kefauver Guarantee

In the Democratic balloting, Sen. Estes Kefauver, the Tennessee copkins campaigner, continued his practice of walking off with popularity contests.

But his preference primary victory over President Truman, who says he isn't running again, gave Kefauver no guarantees on any of the delegates to the 70-vote group which will go to Chicago publicly uncommitted. Many had signed pledges they will support the popular choice, but the pledges are not binding.

This Pennsylvania popularity seemed established but its effect might be felt more widely outside, rather than within, the state. Backers were counting on the Pennsylvania vote to boost the general in what may be his last pre-convention clash with Taft, a Massachusetts primary write-in affair next Tuesday.

Edwin F. Russell, state chairman of the Citizens for Eisenhower, left no doubt that pressure will be brought to bear here on Gov. John S. Fine to swing the many uncommitted delegates who are following his leadership.

TRIUMPH FOR DEWEY

ALBANY, N. Y. — (AP) — Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower's supporters beat down most of yesterday's primary opposition and apparently assured him of at least 85 or 90 of New York's 96 national-convention Presidential votes.

Three young trustees of Marquette prison walked away today Camp operated by the institution from the Conservation Corrections in the Porcupine Mountains in Ontonagon county.

The escape, the first at the Porcupine prison camp since it was established almost three years ago, took place at 9 a. m. None of the prisoners is armed and no vehicles have been reported missing in the area.

Warden Emery E. Jacques said all law enforcement agencies throughout the Upper Peninsula have been notified of the escape. Prison officers are conducting the usual search for the trio.

The three missing men are: Howard Belting, 23, sentenced from Lenawee county to 1 to 5 years for grand larceny; Francis McKelvie, 19, sentenced from Chippewa county to 3 to 15 years for breaking and entering, and Albert Arsenault, 22, sentenced from Schoolcraft county to 3 to 5 years for carrying concealed weapons.

Sn 'A' In Marquette

MARQUETTE, Mich. — (AP) — The melt have started running in Dead and Carp rivers, streams located in Marquette which empty into Lake Superior. Hundreds of fishermen were netting for the silvery fish last night. Peak of the runs is expected during the coming weekend.

Friends of the general won eight of the 11 Republican contests, although several of the winners are not definitely committed to his cause.

Avowed backers of Sen. Robert A. Taft won three.

The balloting was sparse, as expected, and shed little light on the yearnings of the voting masses of the nation's most populous state. New York delegates will go to the Chicago convention of both major parties unpledged and un-instructed.

The primary appeared to be another victory for Gov. Dewey, who strongly backed Eisenhower. Dewey, however, seemed to have lost his effort to deliver a solid pro-Eisenhower delegate block to Chicago.

Most of New York's 94 Democratic convention votes will go to W. Averell Harriman, federal Mutual Security Administrator, a "favorite-son" candidate. Harriman was endorsed by 45 of the state's 62 Democratic county chairmen last week and yesterday announced he would actively seek the nomination.

Sen. Estes Kefauver also has the promise of some support.

Maniacal Killer Of Widow Hunted At Marine City

MARINE CITY, Mich. — (AP) — State police here today announced the arrest of Aaron Jones, 37, for questioning in the brutal slaying of Mrs. Mabel Foster whose slashed body was found in her ransacked home here.

Authorities said Jones was arrested in Bloomfield Hills following the broadcast of a state police teletype.

Police said robbery apparently was the motive for the slaying of Mrs. Mabel Foster, 73, member of a prominent Marine City family. The woman's body, ripped by 14 stab wounds, was discovered yesterday in her Cherry Beach home two miles south of here.

An autopsy disclosed that several of the wounds were inflicted after death. Some were so deep they had passed almost through the body, Coroner Robert Hartley reported.

"Only a maniacal frenzy could have accounted for the ferocity of the attack," said State Police Detective Elmer Willing.

Officers had slim clues to follow. It was believed the murder occurred Monday, giving the slayer more than a 12 hour start in his flight.

He apparently fled in Mrs. Foster's own automobile, which undoubtedly was found in Marine City across the street from the home of her son, Earl, a druggist. Neighbors had last seen the car in Mrs. Foster's garage Monday when she returned from a bridge party.

Mrs. Foster's body was found in a bedroom whose door had been forced. Two purses in the room had been rifled and telephone wires cut.

There were signs of violent struggle in the bedroom. No weapon was found but the coroner said the slayer might have used an ice pick. The victim had been stabbed repeatedly in the chest, arms and back.

Copper Range Railway Brotherhood seeks End To Wage Dispute

WASHINGTON — (AP) — Representatives of the Copper Range Railroad Co., of Houghton, Mich., and the Maintenance of Way Employees Brotherhood have agreed to meet here again tomorrow to seek a means of ending their wage dispute.

Eugene C. Thompson, secretary of the National Mediation Board, told a reporter the two sides will try to work out an arbitration agreement.

They were unable to agree at a meeting with the board last Saturday.

Three dozen members of the union have been on strike since March 7. They seek an increase of 22½ cents an hour.

Test Holds Up Law To Arrest Michigan Reds

DETROIT — (AP) — A Federal Court order today restrained the State of Michigan from enforcing its new anti-Communist law.

Chief Judge Arthur F. Lederle issued a restraining order delaying its enforcement until three federal judges conduct a joint hearing on the new Trucks Law May 20.

The order was issued on the injunction petition of William Albertson, executive secretary of the Michigan Communist party.

The act, passed during the recent session of the state Legislature, requires all subversives to register with State Police. The deadline was last midnight, with 10 years jail or $10,000 fine the penalty for non-compliance.

Albertson challenged the law's constitutionality a few hours before the enforcement deadline.

Granting the temporary injunction, Judge Lederle specifically forbade the state to proceed under the major sections of the law—those pertaining to registration, compilation of a list of Communist-front organizations by the attorney general and barring of subversive organizations.

Secretary of State Alger already has denied the Communist party and Socialist workers party a place on the ballot.

British Occupy Arab Province

LONDON — (AP) — Britain announced today that her troops have occupied the tiny Arabian territory of Lahej, between British Aden and Yemen, after Lahej's one-eyed Sultan fled to Yemen.

The British said the recent deaths of two of the Sultan's cousins—whom he had exiled—caused uneasy stirrings among the population. News reports added that the ruler also had been having trouble over some of the 42 wives he has acquired in a marrying marathon which started a year ago.

A quick protest from the Yemeni legation here said that independent kingdom on the Arabian peninsula's southwest coast viewed the British move with "complete surprise and astonishment" and charged it was not in accord with existing treaties.

Lahej is part of the Aden protectorate which surrounds the British colony at Aden, an important Arabian peninsula bunkering port on the shipping route to the Far East. Britain controls the protectorate through the native Sultans.

The extra protection being built on top of levees at Kansas City is the same kind of wooden "flash-boarding" used to save Omaha, Neb., and Council Bluffs, Ia., last week.

There was nothing in sight, however, to indicate another disaster like the one that hit Kansas City, Kas., and Kansas City, Mo., last July, causing huge industrial district losses.

But with the treacherous Missouri you never know.

Army engineers boosted their estimates of damage to $54,800,000.

TROOPERS TRAIN GUNS ON PRISON MUTINEERS—A force of 600 State Police and state prison guards was concentrated at Southern Michigan prison in Jackson as 173 tough convicts continued their rebellion today. State Police had to fire volleys to get equipment into the prison yard to put out fires set by the mutineers. One convict was killed and at least nine were wounded. Four State Troopers were injured and three prison guards were beaten. In the background of the picture above is the quartermaster building which was set on fire by the convicts. (NEA Telephoto)

Jackson Rebels Try To Get Into Arsenal

JACKSON, Mich. — (AP) — A armed State Police smashed a plot of riot-torn Southern Michigan prison's mutineers to break into the prison arsenal today.

The barricaded felons, using the lives of 10 prison guard hostages as a bargaining weapon, meantime demanded that Gov. G. Mennen Williams enter peace negotiations.

By ED CREAUGH

WASHINGTON — (AP) — "Wonderful! Beautiful! Magnificent!"

That's the reaction of John Taxpayer, his wife and the kids today to their first in-person look at the reconstructed White House.

They had read about the $5,700,000 cellar-to-garret rebuilding job, and they had seen published pictures of the new interior. But not until yesterday did all corners get a chance to see for themselves what the carpenters and decorators had done with all that tax money.

And the exclamations of delight would have gladdened the heart of householder Harry Truman if he had come over from the executive offices to hear them.

All told, 5,544 persons were clocked in the first public showing of the new decor. They came from all over the country and from lands as far away as Iran and India. Reporters who mingled with them heard barely a word of dissatisfaction.

Ten to noon, Tuesdays through Saturdays, will be the regular visiting hours hereafter. You don't need a ticket, a letter from your Congressman or anything else. Just go to the east gate and say you want in.

After all, it's your $5,700,000 that paid for it.

Air Transport Service Squadron Established In Germany By U. S. A.

FRANKFURT, Germany — (AP) — The vanguard—three men—of the first full U. S. Military Air Transport Service squadron continent is now stationed at Rhine-Main air base near here.

It is the 1282nd air transport squadron, formerly a "paper organization" at the U. S. Air Force base at Westover, Mass.

An Air Force announcement today said the squadron, composed of eight C-54 type aircraft and approximately 200 officers and men, would operate both trans-Atlantic and Mediterranean flights.

But so far only the commanding officer, Maj. Robert G. Stinson, of Sandston, Virginia, and two enlisted men are here.

Full operation is expected by June 1, the announcement said.

The administration building contains the prison's big arsenal.

The convicts were reported to have ripped off a metal cover over a tunnel entrance within Block 15. A sound of banging and clattering gave them away and a score of rifle-carrying State Police and guards rushed into the tunnel to nip the escape attempt.

Some Demands Reasonable

Negotiations resumed after a midnight peace bid to the hold-out convicts from Warden Julian N. Frisbie.

There were signs that prison heads were willing to go along with some of the mutineers' demands.

Subsequently, came the demand for Gov. Williams' participation.

Earl Ward, insurrection leader, made the demand in a telephone talk from besieged Block 15 to deputy warden George Bacon.

Ward demanded the governor's signature to any agreement.

For ten minutes this morning Ward talked through a barred window with Dr. Vernon Fox, assistant deputy warden and prison psychologist.

Afterwards, Dr. Fox went to the prison kitchen, presumably to get food for the 173 block inmates, now going into the third day of their fierce holdout.

Guards In Danger

Frisbie talked on the phone at midnight with one of the mutineers' ringleaders, Earl Ward, psychopathic robber. The warden said he expected Ward to call him back this morning.

The hold-up convicts accused the prison system of "brutality" and demanded reforms in a number of phases of prison administration.

"The demands are not unreasonable," Frisbie conceded, "but there are no grounds for some."

He made the statement to a reporter as he waited for contact with Cell Block 15.

Frisbie sought to conciliate the mutineers' spokesman in an at-

St. Louis Baseball Owner Indicted In $49,620 Tax Fraud

ST. LOUIS — (AP) — Fred M. Saigh, owner of the St. Louis Cardinals and a business associate of the late Robert E. Hannegan, former Postmaster General, has been named in a federal indictment charging income tax evasion of $49,620.

The federal grand jury accused the 47-year-old attorney in a surprise action yesterday. He is charged with evading taxes on $108,823 unreported income for the years 1946 through 1949.

There had been no suspicion that Saigh was under investigation.

It was during those years that Saigh came into public prominence first as a big-time real estate operator and later as owner of the Cardinal ball club.

In 1947, following his co-purchase of several St. Louis buildings, he became a national figure when he became a part owner of the Cardinals. Then in 1949, he bought controlling interest in the ball club, replacing Hannegan as president.

Saigh had been a member of a syndicate headed by Hannegan which purchased the club from Sam Breadon. Hannegan died in October of 1949.

The indictment against Saigh carries five counts providing a maximum penalty, if convicted, of 25 years imprisonment and a total of $50,000 in fines. Each of the counts cites a maximum penalty of five years in prison and $10,000 fine.

Children In Montreal Low-Income Families Eat Canned Dog Food

MONTREAL — (AP) — A local welfare worker says some low-income families in Montreal are serving their children canned dog food in sandwiches.

Nan Garvok, of the Montreal diet dispensary, told of the new low-budget practice today and said some grocers reported their sales of canned dog food had doubled in recent years.

"We feel repulsed by it, although it's perfectly harmless," Miss Garvok commented.

Bungalow In Street Blocks Fire Engine

DANVILLE, Va.—(AP)—Engine Company No. 4 roaring to a fire yesterday found the street blocked by a five room bungalow.

Before the firemen could continue a dozen professional movers had to pull the house they were relocating over to the curb.

Later the alarm sounded again, another fire in the same place, and, sure enough, the bungalow was in the way this time, too.

Sweating movers again tugged the five rooms to the curb and No. 4 clanged by a second time.

Students 'Take Over' To Run City For Day

The City of Escanaba today was "operated" by students of Escanaba Senior High school — with considerable thought and a large portion of youthful enthusiasm.

The annual event is part of the work in government studies under the direction of Miss Nina Ley of Senior High faculty.

In morning session the "Council" with Ted Rouman presiding as mayor grappled with several weighty municipal problems and came up with decisions that would do credit to an adult Council in any forward-looking community.

Less Formality
The students had previously campaigned in High school for election to the council and they now participated in the discussion with the assurance of elected representatives of the people.

The Councilmen — Lynn Bergman, Rouman, Denis Harbath, Glen Larson, Gerry Olson — were far less formal than their adult counterparts. Perhaps this was the result of youth and the absence of radio microphones.

"Don't be so stupid!" one councilman told another at one point in the discussion; and on another occasion the "mayor" advised "City Manager" Dave Gasman to be quiet. "He always starts an argument," the mayor complained.

Thoughtful Approach
The presence of Miss Bergman on the Council and Miss Joyce Sundquist as city clerk indicated a trend toward greater equality of the sexes—at least in politics.

On the serious side the Council approved a recommendation by Ted Sogard, city safety director, for warning signals at a North Escanaba railroad crossing; decided to hold the city's north bay shore property for industrial expansion; and rezoned to industry the area east of the U. P. Fair grounds.

Many of the questions and comments during discussion revealed adult penetration into problems confronting the city. This thoughtful approach was indicated in comments concerning tax revenues and the long-view as opposed to expediency in making decisions.

Student Speech Festival Here

The district speech festival of the Michigan High School Forensic Association will be held in Escanaba at the Escanaba Senior High School on Tuesday, April 29, with events scheduled from 3 p. m. to 5 p. m. and from 7 p. m. to 9 p. m.

Speech students representing seven high schools will take part with an estimated 60 students here.

Judges will be instructors of speech and English from Northern Michigan College of Education at Marquette, including Forest Roberts, Miss Martha Beaman, and Gunther Meyland.

Speakers rated "superior" in the district are qualified to appear in the regional meeting at Marquette on May 10. However, in districts where superior ratings total substantially less than 25 per cent of the number of participants, those districts are authorized to certify outstanding speakers of lower ratings for appearance on the regional program.

The regulations set up by the M. H. S. F. A. limit the number certified in the district meet for appearance in the regional festival, to one-third of the number, regardless of rating. With an estimated 60 taking part in the district meet, a maximum of 20 students may qualify.

High schools represented will be Gladstone, Menominee, Escanaba, St. Joseph, Iron Mountain, Kingsford, Norway and Escanaba.

Student Study Of City Government Is Beneficial To Entire Community

SENIOR students of the Escanaba High School "take over" city government in Escanaba today, climaxing their work in government studies.

It is a program that has been extremely successful for a number of years in acquainting high school students with the municipal affairs. Needless to say, it provides considerable information for the elders of these high school youngsters, too.

In the program a high school senior is assigned to each of the various municipal jobs. The students devote a full day with their counterparts in city government, later reporting back to their classes with their findings. In this manner all the students in the government classes get basic information about the city, its services and the duties of the department officials.

Later the seniors who participate directly in this program are guests of the Escanaba Lions Club, where they make a "report" on their experiences. It is a program in citizenship responsibility that pays off to the community.

High school students who participate in this program are well-informed about municipal affairs and city problems. They are better-informed, in fact, than most of their parents.

For a single day the routine work of city officials is disrupted while the senior student "take over" the city, but the disruption is one fully justified. Needless to add, it is welcomed, too, by the city officers because they recognize that understanding of city problems by the citizenry, as represented by these youngsters, is important.

Hope And Hotrods, Joy And Junk

MUCH can be said against the operation of hotrod automobiles. Many of them are unsafe, their drivers immature and reckless. It is well that there be strict traffic and safety regulations on hotrod drivers. But that some of them operate at all is a tribute to the perseverance, faith and mechanical genius of American youth. Many are cars that would have been torn up for scrap had not some youthful buyer decided that tables of deterioration are not infallible and that more miles remained in the junk-yard jalopies.

There is something admirable about a generation that wants an automobile enough to have one under all but insuperable difficulties. It is inspiring to see that faith, a ball of chewing gum and a length of bailing wire can still resurrect cars for which older and perhaps wiser folks had abandoned hope.

Hotrodders will grow up. Some day the energy and drive they put into providing themselves with wheels and clatter may be put to better use. Meantime their elders will find it a good idea to keep a careful outward eye on their behavior in traffic while an inward eye is held on their bright prospects for the future.

SCIENCE AND SECRECY (Christian Science Monitor)

Are science and secrecy compatible? That is the question natural scientists have been asking ever since a gigantic hush fell over atomic experimentation in World War II.

Many of them say no. The latest warning comes from President Conant of Harvard University, who does not question the necessity for secrecy in certain areas of research "in the grim years of rearmament," but who points out the revolutionary and significant advances of scientific theory in the past have come from free discussion. And ever since "pure science" entered into the field of invention in the production of the atom bomb it has been important to keep scientific theory progressing at least as fast as productive techniques.

In other words, it would be small gain to build a huge stockpile of atom bombs while the stockpile of basic research diminishes, since future advances depend largely on the latter. Dr. Conant considers it important that the general public should realize the high cost of secrecy in the field of nuclear research.

The situation is somewhat analogous to the curtailment of civil liberties involved in the government's loyalty programs. In both cases national security may demand a temporary retreat from ideals of perfect intellectual freedom, but this tactical withdrawal should be hedged about with a firm determination to give way as little as possible and to return at the earliest opportunity to the larger ideal. Cold war, like hot war, demands sacrifices in freedom; but scientific progress, like Democratic government, flourishes only in the open air.

Height Is Mostly Inherited And Little Can Be Done to Increase It

BY EDWIN P. JORDAN, M. D. — Written for NEA Service

There are probably few people in the world who are thoroughly satisfied with their own physical constitutions. Most of us would like to change our feet, faces, legs, back, or some other physical characteristic, to some improved version of same.

Q—I am a boy, 19 years old, height 5 feet 4 inches, and would like to grow taller. My father is 5 feet 6 inches, mother 5 feet 3 inches.—G. M.

A—Height is largely a reflection of what is inherited from the parents, plus diet, and perhaps climate and other things. As yet, there is no reliable method of increasing height, and while some additional growth may still occur, it is not likely to be much, and you should learn to accept it along with both some advantages and disadvantages.

Q—About 12 years ago I developed polyps in my nose, and had them operated on. I had relief until last year, when I again developed a polyp in my left nostril. I am nervous about this condition.—L. R.

A—Polyps are non-cancerous tumors which have a remarkable tendency to regrow after they have been once removed. When they do come back, it is well to have them removed again, in most instances, and some people have had them removed time after time.

Q—I have been quite ill with low blood sugar. What can be done for this?—Mrs. L. W.

A—Assuming that there is no tumor in the pancreas, or other definite physical cause of that kind, a person with low blood sugar who has symptoms is generally best treated with frequent feedings of high protein (not starchy foods as erroneously stated in this column previously) foods. It is best to have the exact diet outlined by the physician who has observed the level of blood sugar and can follow the results of the diet.

Q—My baby is 19 months old, but ever since she was three weeks old she has pulled out her hair, and now she eats it as well. I haven't asked our family doctor yet, but I have asked a hair stylist and she said if I don't get her to stop this habit she will ruin her hair cells.—Mrs. A.

A—This is an extraordinary habit for this young child. Perhaps it is more likely to hurt her stomach than her scalp in the long run. It is a condition in which you should get your family doctor to help you as soon as possible.

Q—If I take two vitamin A capsules a day, will this make my cataracts disappear?—C. A. D.

A—Unfortunately, it will not. There is as yet no satisfactory method other than surgery which will make cataracts disappear.

NOTE ON QUESTIONS

Dr. Jordan is unable to answer directly individual questions from readers. However, once a week, in this "Q & A" column he will answer the most interesting and the most frequently asked questions received during the week.

By DREW PEARSON

April 21, 1952

Dear Daughter:

I have been sitting in my hotel room looking down at the park next to the Champs Elysees, watching French children play an thinking of the many times when I have been in Paris before. The children are swinging on swings, riding on a merry-go-round, roller-skating, or sitting on bored and dejected donkeys which walk the length of the park and back for 10 francs per promenade.

It reminds me of the time when you and Tyler were very small and we visited Paris. And it also reminds me of other trips when I was a lot younger and more optimistic about the peace of the world.

The first time I came to Paris was after a great war had been fought which we thought was to free the world, when Woodrow Wilson's vibrant doctrine still rang in people's ears and they were convinced that peace could be with us permanently.

The next time I came to Paris was in 1927, en route to the Geneva naval conference which was to carry out the disarmament goals of that peace. Your mother was with me then and we left you behind—so small you didn't recognize me when I returned. But at Geneva, Bethlehem Steel, Newport News ship and other shipbuilding companies had hired a lobbyist to upset the treaty—because they wanted to build warships. And because the French, Italians and Japanese were also not enthusiastic, he succeeded.

The next year I came back to Paris with Frank B. Kellogg, who, as secretary of state, had negotiated a treaty to outlaw war. I watched the ceremony of the signing of the Kellogg-Briand pact and got a great thrill—as did much of the world—over the idea that at long last it was now illegal to make war.

SEEDS OF WAR PLANTED

My next trip to Paris was during the London naval conference in 1930—an attempt by a most high-minded secretary of state, Henry L. Stimson, to curtail the weapons of war. But he was not even able to persuade his isolationist chief in the White House—Herbert Hoover—that we should consult with other nations in case war threatened.

That conference was a tragic failure. And with that failure it seemed to me the world started downhill again—toward war. War does not start easily or quickly. The seeds are planted long in advance. They do not sprout suddenly—as when Hitler invaded Poland in 1939. They had been planted perhaps eight or nine years before that invasion. And by the next time I came to Paris they had definitely begun to sprout.

That was Christmas of 1936. You were with me then. But you didn't know, any more than the children playing in the park below my hotel window today know, that the seeds of war were already planted.

A sure and certain sign that they were planted had come in March 1936, when Hitler's troops marched into the Ruhr and Rhineland. With that vital source of iron and steel, Hitler had the tools of war in his hands, and it was only a matter of time before hostilities started.

Actually the seeds of war had sprouted well before this. They had been nurtured in the soil of depression, bank failures, unemployment, hopelessness. The seeds were really planted when American investors stopped buying European bonds, thereby ending the American subsidy which kept Europe prosperous under Harding and Coolidge and which—though paid in a different form from the Marshall plan—also has kept Europe prosperous under Truman.

When people lose hope they turn to war. And the great depression from 1932 to 1939 had made Europe lose hope.

MILESTONES TO PEACE

It seems that most of my trips to Paris have been connected somehow or other with milestones on the road to or from peace. My next trip was for the Paris peace conference in 1946, when Americans generally had great hope for peace—though Europe was skeptical. That was when Jimmie Byrnes gradually saw hope fade—dashed on the rock of Russian recalcitrance. That was also when Europe again began to lose hope.

And when I visited Paris one year later with the Friendship Train, Europe was starving, ships were tied up by mutinous stevedores, railroads were on strike, Communism was on the march, and I have never seen Paris so woeful and discouraged.

The Marshall plan came after that, and despite some of its faults, it wrought miracles. Its drive in the right direction is being continued by Eisenhower and the North Atlantic pact. As a result, there is a note of hope today in Paris.

But, underneath that hope, there is danger. Eisenhower's departure is one danger. Inflation and soaring prices are another. Resentment against America for forcing rearmament is another. Reversing the disarmament policies of Frank Kellogg and Henry L. Stimson, we now tell Europe their only hope is to rearm. Naturally, people don't take this reversal happily—especially when it means higher taxes and higher prices.

Your Dad, Drew Pearson.

U. S. Has Dozen Fighter Planes On Way To Lick Russia's MIG-15

By DOUGLAS LARSEN

NEA Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON—(NEA)—The U. S. has a dozen different types of fighter airplanes in production or scheduled for production which can outfight Russia's MIG-15.

Most of the new fighter models actually in production now are capable of speeds in the neighborhood of 700 miles per hour. The ones which are scheduled to go into production sometime this year or early in 1953—the Air Force's F-100, F-101, F-102 and F-103—are in the 900 mile per hour class.

Whether or not any of this family of new U. S. fighters will get into combat with the MIG-15 depends on whether or not a truce is achieved in Korea any time soon. If war continues after this Summer, some of them will, according to an Air Force spokesman. In any event, air combat is right on the verge of moving into speeds which are faster than sound, 730 miles per hour.

"Operational supersonic speeds are not far off," according to Maj. Gen. Laurence C. Craigie, chief of Air Force development. "We are getting supersonic fighters because we will have to fly that fast to survive combat with the opposition when these fighters become available."

"Some people incorrectly believe that air-to-air combat may be impossible at such speeds," he says.

The Air Force continues to claim that the present F-86 Sabre in Korea is superior to the Russian MIG-15. AF experts point to the seven-to-one kill advantage of the Sabre over the MIG as proof.

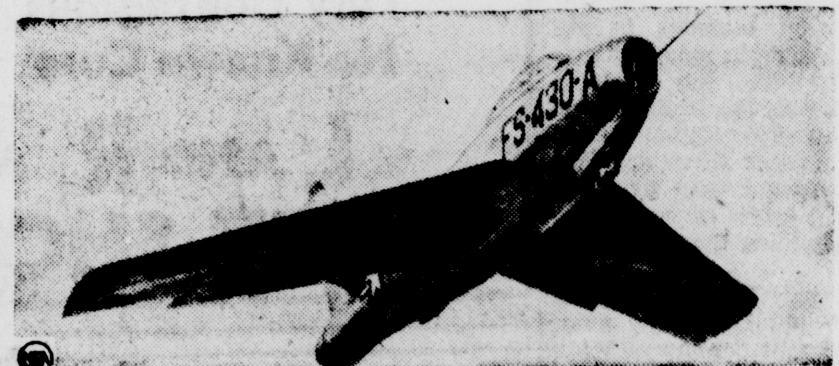

They also claim that unless the Russians come up with a much improved version of their present MIG, the new fighters which will be coming off the line will quickly wipe out the superiority of numbers which the Communists possess with their air force.

The two new versions of the North American F-86 which are in production will erase the slight climb, speed and ceiling advantage the MIG has over the present Sabre. Improved jet engines with a thrust increase of from a plus 5000 pounds to a plus 7000 pounds will make the big difference and put them into the 700 miles per hour class.

The Republic F-84-F Thunderjet now in production will have more speed than the MIG as a result of adding swept-back wings to the early F-84, and the addition of a new engine with a 7200 pound thrust. It won't quite match the new Sabre's speed because it has been built for longer range and for carrying heavy bomb loads. Its range is 850 miles compared to the 500 mile range of the new Sabre.

The Navy has six of the new type fighters which are rated better than the MIG in all categories. They include the Grumman F-9F-6 Panther and F-10F, the Chance Vought F-7U-3 Cutlass, the McDonnell F-3H, the North American F-2J Fury and the Douglas F-4D Skyray. The Cutlass with two jet engines will probably be the fastest of the group, with a speed approaching 900 miles per hour.

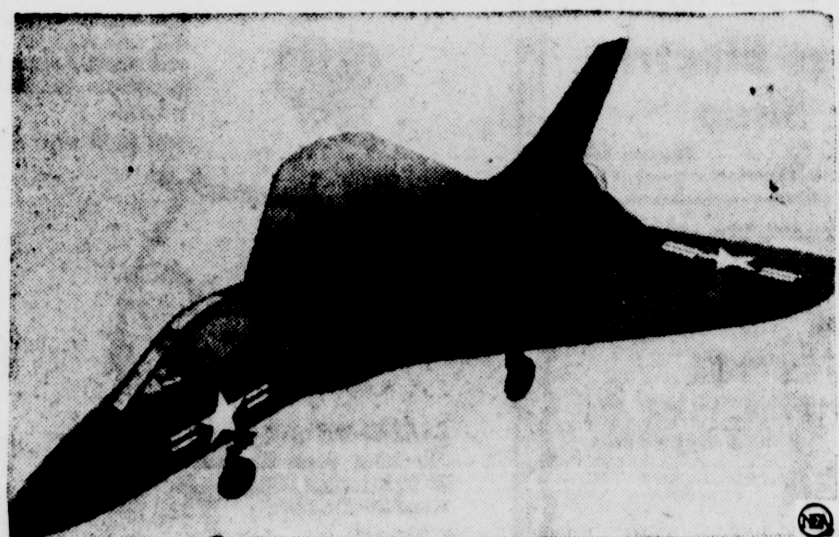

Trends in design as seen in these new subsonic and supersonic fighters reveal nothing revolutionary over the ones in

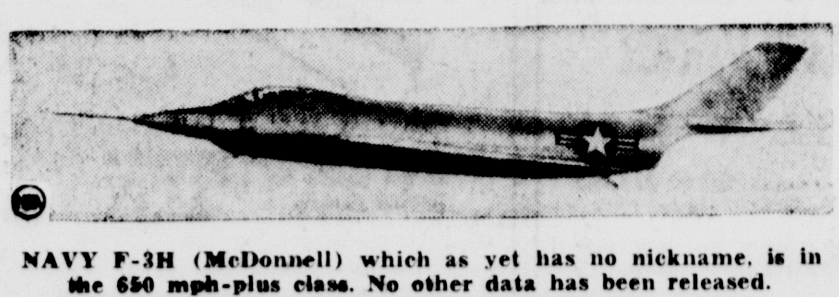

AIR FORCE THUNDERJET, the F-84-F (Republic) has 34-foot wingspan, range of more than 850 miles, maximum speed 650 mph.

NAVY COUGAR, the F-9F-6 (Grumman) has 38-foot span, 1500-mile range, and top speed of 650 mph. It's carrier-based.

NAVY SKYRAY, the F-4D (Douglas) is a delta-wing interceptor for carrier duty, has top speed of more than 700 mph.

NAVY F-3H (McDonnell) which as yet has no nickname, is in the 650 mph-plus class. No other data has been released.

operation today. Biggest factor in increased speed is improved jet engines. They have been made bigger, of improved design and as a result more efficient. Advances in metallurgy have helped make this possible.

All 12 of the new planes have either swept-back wings, or delta wings which are triangular. They are all heavier. None of the safety factors such as armor plating and ejection seats have been sacrificed to improve performance. Lack of such items in the MIG has helped to give it such a good performance, the Air Force says.

Most radical change common to the new fighters is the provision for more rockets and guided missiles, and fewer machine guns. In some the machine guns have been eliminated entirely. Improvements in machine guns have not kept pace with increased

MATTER OF MONEY—It is not money but the love of money that is the root of all evil.

While most of us do not love money, we have a deep and genuine affection for it. This fondness for money will be found among all the peoples of the world—for money represents wealth and power.

Miss Jade Lim of Singapore, Malay, a scholarship student at Northern Michigan College of Education, Marquette, well knows the value of money—and how to bargain to get the most for your money when you make a purchase.

In Singapore and the Far East you do not pay the asking price in a shop, she explained to the Escanaba Rotary Club in a talk to that organization. The customer and shopkeeper haggle over the price with right good will, until a satisfactory price is reached. "It's really fun," she said.

"I found to my embarrassment you do not do business like that in America," Miss Lim smiled. "I tried it in a shop and felt the blood rush to my face when the clerk said coldly, 'I'm sorry, the price is fixed.'"

When the shopkeeper in Singapore gets his asking price and sells an article without bargaining with the customer he has a poor opinion of the customer, Miss Lim confided.

"When you go to Singapore," she cautioned the Rotarians, "do not pay the first price. Bargain—and you will get it cheaper."

THREE TO ONE—The daughter of Chinese parents, Miss Lim is majoring in home economics at Northern, wants to return to the East to teach.

American money is much sought after in Singapore, she said, for the rate of exchange is about three to one.

"If you have $10 in American money, it is worth $30 in Singapore—which makes you a man of wealth," she explained.

There are many fine things in Singapore shops for the American to purchase—Chinese silks, Malayan print goods, gold, jade, diamonds and pearls.

MADE TO ORDER—Miss Lim's dark eyes sparkled as she told of the silk shops where bolts of heavy silken fabrics were let down in baskets from the storehouses on the top floor.

"Test the quality of silk by burning it," she told the Rotarians. "The way it chars, even the appearance of the ashes, reveal the quality—but the shopkeeper may object to setting fire to his cloth," she smiled. "Then you must depend upon the feel and the weave to learn the quality."

You do not buy your clothing ready made in Singapore—you purchase the material and have the clothing made to your size in another shop.

"In America it is mass production, with clothing made to sizes to fit everyone. Yet I have found it difficult to purchase shoes small enough here," she said.

Singapore's shoe shops have pictures of the shoes—but not the shoes themselves. You select the style, then look over the hides—"alligator, leathers of all kinds, snake skins"—and the shoe is made to your size.

Of American shoes Miss Lim has a derogatory opinion. In Singapore the leathers last a long time.

"Here you may pay $20 for a shoe of cardboard and cloth that last no time at all," she lamented.

HAT OF THE ARAB—The various commercial sections of Singapore are separated according to the commodities sold—silks in the shops of the Chinese; print goods from the Indians; dates, nuts, rugs and raisins from the Arabs.

"In America I saw some hats being worn just like those among the merchants of Arab Street," Miss Lim reported. "They wore—what do you call it?—the fez. So I ask of these men: 'Are you Arabs?' And they told me they are Shriners!"

Miss Lim undoubtedly will, at this distance, accept the personal apology of this columnist who, without meaning offense, asked her age after her talk to Rotary.

"In China it is said that it is bad luck to ask the lady of her age," she replied with gentle reproach.

Navy Band To Feature Soloist Here Monday

William Cameron
Harp Soloist

B. Mitchell Morris
Tenor Vocalist

There are many nationally-known musicians in the U. S. Navy Band and several of the outstanding soloists will be featured in Escanaba Monday, April 28, at Wm. Oliver Memorial auditorium.

The Navy Band's appearance here is sponsored by the Escanaba Band Boosters, an organization of parents of school musicians. Net proceeds will go to the school uniform fund.

In other years the Band Boosters have brought to Escanaba such outstanding musical organizations as the U. S. Marine Band and the University of Michigan Band.

Concerts will be presented Monday afternoon, a matinee for students and children, and at 8:15 in the evening. Tickets are being sold by the Band Boosters and may also be obtained at the Delta Music Center and at Gust Asp's.

Two of the several soloists with the Navy Band are Ben Mitchell Morris, tenor vocalist, and William Cameron, harpist.

Morris is recognized as one of the most versatile and popular artists with the band. Born in Seattle, Wash., Morris sang on radio shows to defray his expenses to the University of Washington and later studied voice in California.

Cameron took up study of the harp after he found that his piano lessons were not going along too well. His ability at the harp nevertheless brings him a considerable amount of ribbing from his fellow members of the Navy Band. They call him "the angel" but respect his reputation as one of the finest harpists in America. The Navy Band is conducted by Lt. Commander Charles Brendler who has played with the organization for 35 years and has been its leader since 1941.

Grass Fires Bad

The Rapid River fire department has been busy burning off lots where the grass is high and there is danger of fire to nearby buildings. Friday afternoon the department was called out to a grass fire caused by the emptying ashes outside. In the matter of minutes the large field belonging to George Hamilton was ablaze. At that time there was a high wind. The Willard Salley home was right in the pathway of the fire. The Conservation Dept. and the Forestry Dept. also helped put out the fire. The blaze was brought under control but caused quite a bit of excitement for a while.

Newberry Plans Smelt Jamboree Saturday Night
Newberry's annual smelt jamboree will take place Saturday night, April 26, at the Black River on US-2, it was announced today by Albert Collins, member of the Newberry V. F. W. post, sponsor of the event.
Collins expects more than a thousand smelt dippers at the jamboree, based on attendance in past years. Refreshment and lunch concessions stands are being erected at the site this week. Proceeds will go to the building fund of Tahquamenon Post 4418, Veterans of Foreign Wars.

Black River is located mid-way between Manistique and St. Ignace on US-2. Long stretches of sand beach along the mouth of the river make it especially adaptable to good smelt dipping. The jamboree is expected to get underway at dusk.

Witch Of Buchenwald Must Serve Out Life Term For Atrocities
KARLSRUHE, Germany—(AP)—Ise Koch, known as the witch of Buchenwald, still must serve out a life term for Nazi concentration camp atrocities.
The West German Supreme Court last night threw out her contention she had been convicted twice of the same crime. Hans Richter, president of the court, said the convictions were for different offenses.

A U. S. Court's life sentence, later reduced to four years, was assessed for crimes against Allied prisoners, he said. The German life sentence, which stands, was for crimes against Germans and Austrians.

Mrs. Koch, now 46, was represented at the hearing by a lawyer while she remained in her cell at Aichbach prison.

NEWSMEN TALK TO JACKSON PRISON RIOTERS—Two spokesmen (background) for rioting inmates at the Southern Michigan prison in Jackson, Mich. talk to newsmen while the prisoners' companions held 10 guards as hostages inside the 200-man cell block. tempt to save the lives of 10 prisoners on guards held as hostages.
The convicts say they will put the hostages to death if any attempt is made to rush their stronghold. A force of 600 State Police and guards concentrated at the prison.
In flaming rioting Monday that caused $2,000,000 damage to the "big house," one convict was killed and at least nine were injured. State Police had to fire volleys to get equipment into the prison yards to put out fires.
Before the worst of the rioting was quelled, four State Troopers were injured and three prison guards were beaten.
Sporadic outbreaks in various cellblocks heightened tension yesterday.
Dissenters Beaten Up
Violence broke out among the mutineers themselves as they purged their own group of dissenters and "stool-pigeons." They reportedly quarreled over whether to prolong the mutiny and what to do with the hostages.
Six inmates were tossed out of Cell Block 15. Five of them were injured but one, a 53-year-old prisoner, was shoved out unharmed as "too old for this sort of thing." Two of the expelled inmates had been beaten with chains. They were in serious condition in the prison hospital. The other three injured had been stabbed in the fighting.
Meanwhile, at the Michigan Reformatory in Ionia the prisoners were reported "all quiet." Yesterday the 1,300 inmates had been "tense and jittery" and State Police were dispatched there in case trouble developed. The only damage however, was one smashed window.
Warden Frisbie promised the mutineers "there will be no mass punishment" if they call it quits and surrender the hostages in safety.

Frisbie also told Ward "I'm going along with you on the major points" of the convicts' manifesto. But he reported the ringleader had "no particular reaction" to his peace bid.
No Reprisals Wanted
The mutineers' manifesto included: no reprisals against the leaders; a more liberal parole policy; establishment of an inmate council to meet monthly with the prison administration; an end to the use of "inhuman restraint equipment" in the disciplinary block; better ventilation and light; and improved segregation of mental cases.

Frisbie said it was not entirely clear what the convicts meant by "inhuman restraint." He said if they meant handcuffs, leg irons and straitjackets, such devices were essential at times in handling mental prisoners.
Some improvements, the warden said, already had been planned but were held up by lack of materials and money. He said some of the things proposed by the convicts, such as an inmate council, had been tried before but he was willing to try them again.

Ruled By Crazy Jack
Frisbie said Ward gave no indication when the mutiny might be called off. Instead, the convicts' spokesman indicated he would barter for better terms, saying he would write a letter today elaborating in more detail the changes wanted by the convicts in the state's policy of paroling prisoners.

At a news conference, the warden flatly denied the mutineers' charges of brutality. He said, however, he would agree to investigate and make any needed reforms in prison administration.
The mutineers appeared to be ruled with an iron hand by Ward and Jack (Crazy Jack) Hyatt, a notorious robber. Hyatt once used Gov. G. Mennen Williams as a shield in an attempted prison break.
Yesterday, "Crazy Jack" — so called for his tantrums—flew into a rage and beat two men with chains before they were tossed out of the barricaded cellblock.
Ward boasted to Frisbie he had had everything organized in the cell block. Ward said he ruled the downstairs section of the cell block while Hyatt ran the upper tiers. He also boasted that the mutineers had plenty to eat.

CROWDING BLAMED
LANSING —(AP)— Governor Williams today asked the Osborne Association, nationally-known penal reform organization, to make a thorough investigation of the causes of the riot at the state prison of Southern Michigan.
Williams said Austin H. McCormick, executive director of the association, will arrive in Lansing Saturday morning to survey the problem and confer with the governor.
Williams said the advisability of this step had been checked with corrections and prison officials at Jackson.
The governor reiterated that the guard staff at the prison had been dangerously reduced because of lack of money and that the prison was dangerously overcrowded.
He said "my warnings have been disregarded. My requests for $600,000 for a new building to relieve the overcrowding at Jackson was rejected by the Legislature."
"Appropriations have forced a reduction of 60 guards at Jackson since 1949 while the prison population was increasing."

Blacklist Names 61 German Firms Who Sell To Soviet Bloc

BONN, Germany —(AP)— The U. S. High Commission has blacklisted 61 West German firms suspected of selling strategic material to Soviet bloc nations.
American officials said the Bonn government plans to prosecute some of the firms for violation of currency and export regulations if the illegal trade charges are confirmed.
The blacklisting denies the companies ECA counterpart funds, contracts from the U. S. Army and High Commission, and critical imports from America.
The U. S. officials declined to say what vital materials allegedly were sold to the east. But the undercover traffic to the Soviet bloc is known to include power equipment, steel tubing, raw steel, oil exploration equipment, chemicals, steel mill parts and refinery equipment.
Western officials have said that this illegal traffic amounts to at least 50 million dollars a year.

Kansas City Gets Set For Missouri Floodwater Crisis

from Rulo in southeastern Nebraska to the mouth above St. Louis. That included $29,700,000 of agricultural damage.
More than 600,000 acres are expected to be flooded in that stretch.
Highways Closed
In Iowa, highways were closed as far south as Davenport. Du-buque railroad stations were closed but trains kept running. Leaking dikes kept flood fighters busy at Sabula, north of Clinton.
At Muscatine, levees held and officials said "We seem pretty well braced."
At Leavenworth, Kas., the last private levee in the Kansas City district collapsed late yesterday. It protected the Missouri Valley Shipyards, working on a $7,500,000 government boat building project. Two hundred sandbaggers got out safely.
A leaking dike also imperilled Sherman Air Force field near old Fort Leavenworth. Troops first were evacuated, then fresh flood fighters were rushed in for a last ditch stand.

Democrat Elected Louisiana Governor To No One's Surprise

NE WORLEANS, La.— (AP) — Robert F. Kennon of Minden is Louisiana's new governor—to no one's surprise.
The Democratic nominee swamped his Republican opponent, Harrison Bagwell, the first GOP candidate in 12 years, in yesterday's general election. C. E. Barham, state senator from Ruston and the Democratic choice for lieutenant-governor, also was elected without trouble.
The two top state posts and 11 seats in the legislature from New Orleans were the only spots where the GOP entered opposition to the Democrats in this traditional one-party state.
The Democratic nominees for these legislative posts, five in the Senate and six in the House, didn't have any trouble being elected, either.
Kennon's inauguration is scheduled for May 13.

Woodruff Won't Run For Congress Again

WASHINGTON —(AP)— Rep. Roy O. Woodruff (R-Mich.), dean of Michigan's congressional delegation, announced today he will not seek re-election.
A veteran of 34 years' service in the House of Representatives, the 76-year-old Bay City Republican said his health was a major factor in the decision.
His retirement will leave Rep. Jesse P. Wolcott, Republican from Port Huron, as Dean of the Michigan delegation.
Despite his seniority, Woodruff never has been a committee chairman in the House. Currently a member of the ways and means committee, he is ranked there by Rep. Reed.

Malingering Airman To Appeal Conviction From Courts Martial

HATTIESBURG, Miss.— (AP) — The case of Capt. Carl Izard of Magnolia, convicted by a courts martial of malingering, will be appealed, says his defense attorney, State Sen. Stanton Hall of Hattiesburg.
Izard was sentenced to dismissal under dishonorable conditions, forfeiture of pay and allowances and to three months imprisonment.
Announcement of the verdict and sentence came from Secretary of Air Finletter at a special news conference at Washington.
Izard, who was assistant county agent of Pike County, Miss., at the time of his re-call to active duty, could not be reached at Keesler field for comment.
His wife, a high school teacher, said her husband did not actually refuse to fly, but requested to be grounded when he "developed a nervous condition and lost weight." Mrs. Izard, who lives at Columbia, Miss., said her husband offered to serve his country "at any time, in any place, in any capacity if they just wouldn't make him fly."

Korean Front Quiet On Anniversary Of Red Push Last April

SEOUL — (AP) — Light patrol contacts and probes rippled across the Korean battlefield today as Allied soldiers soberly observed the first anniversary of a massive Red offensive.
The Communists showed little willingness to repeat the punch they threw last April 22-23.
An Eighth Army staff officer said only five small Red probes were reported.
Allied warplanes continued saturation raids on the battered Red supply lines Wednesday. The U. S. Fifth Air Force said Communist Migs offered no opposition.

National Guard To Go On Firing Range May 4

On May 4th the local Engineer company will take to the firing range; for their annual pre-camp rifle training. All movement will be by Army trucks to the Federal owned range area, 4 miles north of Gladstone on highway M35. There the army will set up a temporary camp, and start development of their rifle range area. The work planned for the first Sunday will consist of improvement of the range road from M35 to the range, and construction of targets and target pits. Engineer equipment that will be used for this work will be the company's own D-7 dozer, truck mounted air compressor, and squad pioneer and carpenter sets. A small amount of demolition work is also on the schedule for the first Sunday.

On the succeeding Sundays of May 11th, 18th, and 25th all personnel of Company C will be engaged in firing of unit weapons. It is planned to have every man qualified in the firing of the Garand rifle and the carbine. In addition to this each man will be given the opportunity to fire the 45 cal. sub-machine gun and the 30 cal. air cooled machine gun. Capt. Johnson says that every soldier should have an equivalent of about 120 rounds of ammunition to fire in each weapon. Noon meals will be prepared in the field for each Sunday, under the control of the units mess Sgt., Kenneth Lessard. The time to be spent will be eight hours each day, starting at 8 a. m., and allowing for travel time to and from the range. Firing will be conducted from a 200 and 300 yard range and Army regulation courses will be followed.

The general public is invited to attend any of these outdoor drills and Capt. Johnson states that all roads leading to the range area will be well marked for their convenience. Also range guards will be provided for the safety of all personnel and to guide all visitors to the firing area. The local company officers want to have all their men fully trained in range firing, so they can make an outstanding showing in the coming National Guard encampment, at Camp Grayling Aug. 16 to 30.

Ruark Likes New Orleans

By ROBERT C. RUARK
NEW ORLEANS—Possibly it is because the place was rather heavily romantic when I was younger and full of foolishness, and so supplied my own electricity, but I still find this hamlet more replete with euphoria, than, say, Peoria.
New Orleans has cheapened and changed with the years, but it still feels wicked and easy and nonabrasive to the nerves. New Orleans is not the kind of town where you feel it is necessary to keep a date for lunch. It is a sort of domestic Tangier, and the definition of a Tangier appointment is one which you never really intend to complete.
It is sort of funny how the years have lifted the face of the city. An Irishman named Owen Brennan, an upstart from the Irish sea, now runs the Vieux Carre, the best French restaurant in town. There is a new deal in jazz music—a pair of young brothers named Assunto draw the crowds to Hip Guinle's place, with as fine a trumpet and trombone combination as you ever remembered.

About Lizzie Miles
What is really amusing is the fact that a Negro lady of middle years, named Lizzie Miles, is packing them in a place called the Mardi Gras, and she is doing it with French lyrics to simple songs. Lizzie was a champagne toast in Paris during the 1920s when American Negroes were considered a very chic novelty. Lizzie sang New Orleans jazz then.
Lizzie now chants sort of Edith Piaf French, except it isn't French she learned while she was playing at the fast set in Paris. It is just plain, tired old bayou canjun French—songs Lizzie's mama used to sing to Lizzie in patios when she was a child. Lizzie has dragged her Paris gowns out of the trunk and is now resplendent in finery that seems oddly right for the period, and she sings in a voice that sounds like Sophie Tucker with a cajun grandma.
I have no doubt that it will not be long before Lizzie is appearing in the more expensive boites in New York, and eventually will return to Paris, in order to sing Louisiana French to the French. This is known as completing the circuit.
Changes In Restaurants
Foodwise, New Orleans is undergoing a sea change. The early evening closing of the ancient restaurants—Galatoire's, Antoine's, Broussard's, Arnaud's—and the haughty habit of keeping the customer on the sidewalks while he waits for a place is beginning to pall on the visitor. There was a time when, if a man did not succeed in seating himself before 8:30, he did not dine off remoulade and truite margery that night. The Irish Mr. Brennan's late hours in the Vieux Carre have remodeled some of the meekness that the tourist used to feel.
And, as part of a peculiar renaissance, Brennan has revived the old-fashioned New Orleans Sunday breakfast, a three-hour meal that involves a morning pick-me-up and a bottle of suave wine as parcel to the fancy eggs and the garlic bread.

As part of another section of the renaissance, Mr. Diamond James Moran, discontented with a diamond bridge for his teeth, a diamond zipper and a diamond bow for his spectacles, has just ordered a diamond toupee, which sets some sort of fresh high for personal adornment. Not even television is rich enough a medium for Mr. Moran, who is colorful enough without a diamond-studded hairpiece to lend him glamour.
Late-Night Trade
The late-night trade now splits its time between Mr. Thomas Caplinger's cafe Lafayette, a weary old inn, with a clientele which can best be described as colorful, and a new joint called Wit's End, which features musicians and the vocal calisthenics of a Chicago boy named Shekky Green. The old Absinthe House has taken to closing at a ridiculously early hour—somewhere between 4 and 6 a. m.
One thing has not changed. The early morning hours still contain the baby's cry, the angry man's voice, the woman's scream, the tinkle of the dispirited piano, the muted trumpet, the crash of glass, the mating querulousness of the alley cat, the smell of hot dogs, and all the sounds of human strife at an hour when good folk are abed. So long as New Orleans keeps its gray hours up to moody standard, it will still be more fun than Philadelphia.

New Dormitory Will Be Started In Fall At Michigan State

EAST LANSING — (AP)—Michigan State College has disclosed plans to start building a new $5,000,000 women's dormitory next fall.

The structure will be built opposite the new Kellogg Center for continuing education.

McDonel said the dormitory is needed to alleviate crowded conditions in M.S.C.'s housing units and prepare for expected increases in enrollment in 1956.

Michigan State now houses 2,500 women in dormitories for 1,600 persons.

Ever talk to a telephone man's wife?

Here's an excerpt from a little talk given before telephone people by Mrs. William O. Tetro of Grand Rapids, wife of a Michigan Bell lineman:

"I can remember when Bill started work at Michigan Bell. When he'd come home, I'd ask him what he did that day, and it seemed he'd always reply, 'Learned how to climb a pole safely, how to lift safely, or how to work on a ladder safely.' No matter what he was doing, the word SAFETY was always there. I think Bill had worked for Bell for at least three months before I knew that his foreman, Mr. Hendricks', first name was Glenn. All I ever heard was 'Safety' Hendricks.

"Isn't it a wonderful feeling of security to know that our husbands have been taught the safe way of doing every job?"

No job is so important and no service is so urgent that we cannot take time to perform our work safely—Bell System Safety Creed

Orpheus Choral Club Heard In Successful Spring Concert

By GEORGE RODMAN

A well-rehearsed Orpheus Choral club and two talented guest soloists showed their musical wares at a greatly successful concert last night which was the annual appearance of the local choral group.

A large audience was immediately impressed, on hearing the first offering on the program, with the vitality and preparation of the chorus. The program ranged from a moving religious composition, "The Omnipotence" by Schubert—the most ambitious work on the program—to a Fred Waring arrangement of a song popular a few years back, "Way Back Home."

In two solo spots by the guest artists, last night's appreciative audience heard a lyric soprano and a harpist, both possessors of a more than fair degree of talent.

Soloist Wins Applause

Nadine Eisner, a senior voice student at Lawrence College Conservatory in Appleton, Wis., displayed a soprano voice with the sheen and beauty of a delicate fiber-thread. Her best work came in the singing of the solo line of the triumphal "The Omnipotence" and in the soaring phrases of her excellently executed encore, "Were My Song With Wings Provided."

Harpist Frances Gilman Miller, the other guest soloist, of Minneapolis, brought to the audience the beauty of sound of that instrument when expertly played.

Her most engaging work was in her encore, "Night Wind" and in a group of two children's songs, "Wandering Minstrels" and "Calico Cow." A brilliant performance of Hahn's "Die Schöne Erinnerung" opened her solo spot on the program.

These clinics will be held 9 to 11 a. m. and 1 to 4 p. m., as follows: May 12 and 13—Barr at Junior High.

May 15 and 16 (a. m.)—Washington at Junior High.

May 19 and 20 (a. m.)—Franklin at Franklin.

May 23 (a. m.) and 26—Webster at Webster.

To illustrate the visit to the home by the PTA member next week, Station WDBC will present a dramatization of the visit Thursday, April 24, at 5:20 p. m. Mrs. Warren Fisher will represent the PTA committee visitor, and Mrs. William Butler will represent the home visited.

Credit To Director

Their musical quality and vigor can only be attributed to the coaching of their director, Mrs. Claire H. Garrard, who led them through a series of varied compositions, each of them claiming a special merit in performance.

Approval of her conducting could also come from Fred Waring for the chorus's excellent singing of three compositions in arrangements made by his organization. The three works were "The Nutcracker Suite," "Way Back Home" and "Comin' Thro' The Rye," all skillfully and charmingly done.

Accompaniment was ably provided by Helen Moore at the piano, and by Esther Fernstrom as assistant pianist in "The Nutcracker Suite."

Pupils Will Give Program For Ford River Mill PTA

The Ford River Mill PTA will meet Thursday at 8 p. m. at the school for a program by the school children and a business session and social.

Children of the intermediate grades will sing a group of songs. The solos will be sung by Marilyn Nordquist, Carol Meloche, Jean Ebbesen, Lois Cholger, Joan Sundstrom, Donna Erickson and Doris Michaud, and the duets by Sharon Erickson and Kathy Flath, Doris Michaud and Donna Erickson and Joan Sundstrom and Lois Cholger.

LUDINGTON BUY-LINES

by Sue Donimus

THE behavior of some smart children often indicates that they don't smart in the right places! But one day of their lives when they do look and act sweet is that all important day—confirmation day. And mama can act smart down at Lauerma's when she selects a confirmation dress from their large selection of sheers, nylons, taffetas and organdies. I get all sentimental and fluttery looking at one little white sheer with its sweet puffed sleeves, wide ruffled collar and tiers of lace edged ruffles on a billowing skirt. All of the dresses are generously cut with full skirts. Priced from $3.25 to $14.95; sizes from 6 to 14. Be sure you're smart in the right place—Lauerma's!

MY husband thinks I'm too smart when it comes to dresses! I'm always ready to take what's becoming to me! The trouble is that at the Penney Store that's likely to run into a lot of dresses! But Penney's new shipment of $2.79 housedresses not only looks good on me but on my budget! Seersuckers, percales, piques... all of fine quality and with new styles. All sizes and half sizes are available! Be Penney-wise!

THE science of archeology just proves you can't keep a good man down! If you're boning up on cars, you'll discover one that's hit the top in popularity. That's the Studebaker—cause you can't keep a good car down, either! Yet, surprisingly, you don't have to dig very deep into those jeans to buy a Studebaker since they've entered the low priced field of cars! And though this car has streamlined, beauty, durability and power, it's upkeep is truly low. No premium gasolines required for that high powered motor! At the Peterson and Jacobsen Auto Service you can see this thing of beauty that's a joy forever. Don't be an old fossil—drive a Studebaker. It's monumental!

MY neighbor defines inflation as "drop in the buck!" They say what goes up must come down—but when it's your house that's going up with building supplies from the Stephenson Lumber Company, it will be a long time before it comes down! Always fine seasoned lumber—always the highest quality roofing materials—always the newest gadget (like ROW removable windows)—always considerate, friendly service. It more than the cost of living is "going up" for you this Spring, insist on Stephenson's supplies. You'll end up with a fine house and an inflated ego!

A CYNICAL housewife defined a bachelor as "a man who lost the opportunity to make some woman miserable!" When I saw the new Handmacher suits at Gartner's, I decided they were just looking for the opportunity to make some woman deliciously happy! Oh, they're that smart! Meticulously tailored Weather-vane—celanese acetate fabric that resists wrinkles—comes in navy, taffy, dusty pink or butter-milk. These are unlined suits—you've seen them nationally advertised—only $25. I found they have a delightful surface texture and will stay crisply fresh. Sizes 10 thru 20. Gartner's and Gartner's alone in Escanaba have these tailored suits by Handmacher! They suit me!

IN fashionable society nobody arrives until everybody else has! But a fashionable watch that is proud to be among the first to have arrived is Elgin! You'll find a new shipment of up to the minute Elgin watches at Garrard Jewelers—the store with the Elgin Clock Sign! Garrard's also have a fine selection of Hamiltons, Bulovas and other famous makes. Lady Elgin and Banner Buy are two of the specially priced watches you should see if you're making a timely graduation gift; both 17 jewels. You'll always be on time if you're early in getting down to Garrard's!

THEY say the reason a dog has so many friends is that his tail wags instead of his tongue. But surely I can get nothing but friends if I let my tongue wag about the wonderful new cotton fabric I found on the floor at the Fair Store! It's Seer-O-Sette—the material with a permanent crinkle. Washes like a charm and requires no ironing! There are two gay Roman stripes in bold bright colors—just right for dresses; two other pieces have a white background with red or blue flower designs—perfect for little sisters' p's! Only 89c a yard for Seer-O-Sette. Plan to put a new crinkle in your wardrobe from the Fair.

THE average man, they tell me has 66 lbs. of muscle and 3.3 lbs. of brains! Maybe that accounts for a lot of things! Anyway, it makes it more important what a man wears on his legs than on his head! Young's Haberdashery has the answer, all right. If you want to show you have both brains and brawn you'll shop at Young's for slacks of top quality. You choose from smart wool gabardines, natty tweeds, worsteds, sharkskins and Burnell fabrics. All colors and sizes and priced from $6.95 to $18.95. It's the slack season—that's the reason Young's pants are pleasin'!

AS WE LIVE

Pets in the Home Make for Happy Kids

By Elizabeth B. Hurlock, Ph.D.
(Q) "I have three children, ranging in age from ten to five years. Our house is constantly filled with all kinds of pets. My son, the eldest, is forever bringing home mice, hamsters, birds, stray dogs and cats, or puppies and kittens given to him by some of his friends. He seems to love animals but I have the work of feeding them and claiming up. Every time I say we will have to get rid of a pet, all three children put up such a protest that I haven't the heart to carry out my threat. I sometimes feel that I am living in a zoo instead of a home. Do children need pets?"

Mrs. A. M.
(A) Every child needs a pet at some time or other in his childhood. Some children, however, need pets more than others do and they have a greater fondness for animals than for people.

A house filled with pets can be a nuisance and a lot of extra work. However, when children love animals, depriving them of the pleasure is unfair. It is better to have a house cluttered up with pets and happy children than a neat and spotless home where the children are unhappy.

Your children are quite old enough to assume the major burden of caring for their pets. Make it clear to them that this is their duty and that if they shirk it, their pets will suffer just as they themselves would suffer if you neglected them.

You cannot, of course, expect them to use mature judgment in the care of their pets nor can you expect them to be as consistent in the care of animals as an adult would be. There are times when you will have to take over to avoid the death of a pet that would bring grief to your children.

While pets are important to a child, they should never be allowed to become so important that they will take the place of human companionship. When you find that your son, for example, is spending more time at home playing with his pets than out on the playground, playing with the boys, heed this as a "danger signal" and see what is causing it. Pets have their place in a child's life but that place is not to replace human companionship. The child never learns from animals how to adjust to living people and this is essential to success in life.

If you have a problem about family or friend, ask Dr. Hurlock to help you. Write her in care of this newspaper.

Area Cooperation Is Urged By C-C Speaker

The need for mutual cooperation between Escanaba and Gladstone was stressed by Nevin Reynolds, Escanaba, in a talk on Area Cooperation last evening before the Gladstone Chamber of Commerce at the Lincoln Hotel.

We should band together, each community's citizens for promotion of Better Government, Industrial Development and Retail and Tourist Promotion.

He also said that when each community promotes better living for their own people it would seem to follow that mutual action toward that end would tend to promote better conditions for both cities and the county.

The speaker said that community cooperation is now paying an annual dividend in Delta county of $1,000,000, a portion of which finds its way into every cash register in the county, through the medium of our potato farmers.

The interchange of employment was pointed to by the speaker who showed that many Escanabans and township folk are employed in Gladstone while many Gladstonians are employed in Escanaba or the townships.

"I believe that the payrolls of our two cities cross and intermingle so that in a large sense they really can be defined only as an area payroll," Reynolds said. "Put any new industry anywhere in the area it would like to be. The industrial payroll can't be contained in any given location, therefore, some joint action should seem a sensible approach."

The speaker predicted the St. Lawrence Seaway will be a reality in a few years and it is very possible that waters surrounding our cities may become of great industrial value and he wondered if this comes to pass if we will be prepared to deal with the problem on an area basis or on a hit and miss basis without consideration of our mutual well-being.

The speaker pointed out that industrial and retail activities are undeniably intertwined between the communities and so is government. He alluded to Escanaba's power problem and said that on the surface this would appear to be Escanaba's headache but a closer look will reveal that perhaps it belongs to all of us. Eventual solution will affect the lives of all in the area," he said.

Our governments meet on the county board but the speaker said he had seen little combined action on the part of these units of government. He said he believed it important that some group take the initiative to bring closer cooperation in this important sphere of activity.

The speaker pointed to the value of activity of retail, commercial and industrial committees set up by Chambers of Commerce and suggested formation of a joint coordinating committee between the two Chambers of Commerce. He expressed the belief that if we are going to develop the potential wealth of the county in which we live we can do it only by joining forces.

Indonesia Processes Rubber For Markets

SINGAPORE —(AP)—Indonesia is bypassing Singapore in offering processed natural rubber to the markets of the world.

The flow of unprocessed rubber which keeps alive the remitting industry in Singapore, is gradually drying up and threatening the industry with extinction. Five of 11 major rubber milling factories have already closed, throwing thousands out of jobs.

Rubber men here say the Indonesians have been trying to set up rubber smoking plants of their own to process unfinished rubber. Thousands of rubber milling machines have been shipped to Indonesia during the past year to equip new plants.

Install New Heating Unit

Installation of heating and ventilating equipment at Riverside school is well along and will be completed as soon as a gas tank and some of the ventilating material arrives, it is announced by A. F. Hall, local superintendent of schools.

The heating and ventilating contract is held by Hoholik's Plumbing and Heating.

Following completion of the heating and ventilating contract, the interior of the building will be redecorated and new seating installed to replace seats put in when the school was erected 40 years ago, Hall said.

Riverside school will be re-opened in September with three rooms in operation—a kindergarten, a primary and an intermediate.

On the basis of the 1951 school census, and the present enrollment from the Riverside area in Lincoln and Lakeside schools, it is estimated that approximately 75 students will attend classes at Riverside, the superintendent reported. This would include 14 in the kindergarten and 30 each in the other two rooms.

This year the cost of transporting Riverside pupils to Lincoln and Lakeside will amount to $2,208, Hall said. If Riverside school were not opened next fall it would be necessary to place another bus in service to transport Riverside pupils to Central or Lakeside schools.

Such an additional bus would increase transportation costs to around $3,000—enough to pay for fuel, maintenance, janitor service and a high rate of interest on the cost of refitting Riverside school, the superintendent stated.

The present plan, he pointed out, does not involve the hiring of extra teachers. If Riverside pupils were transported next year, however, the services of an additional half time kindergarten teacher would be required.

Local Debate Team Praised

Manistique debaters who attended the debate scholarship contest recently in Ann Arbor won high praise for their conduct from the Michigan High School Forensic Association, according to a letter received by A. F. Hall, local school superintendent, from Hayden K. Carruth, association manager.

The letter follows:

"I wish to congratulate you and your school upon the delegation which you sent to Ann Arbor for the Debate Scholarship Contest. While on the campus these young people conducted themselves so as to bring distinction and credit to your community.

"In competition Nick Babladelis and Bill Corson both made excellent appearances. You would have been proud of them. We particularly appreciate the leadership in speech education which is being exercised by Mr. Marvin Frederickson. He is thorough in his work but broad in his views. It is a privilege to be working with him.

"Whenever we can assist you in any way in the development of your speech education program, please let me know."

In addition to Nick Babladelis and William Corson who participated in the contest, the following Manistique debaters made the Ann Arbor trip: Laura Pizzala, Jon Schuster and Mary Ella Giovannini.

Big name coaches will again head the Upper Peninsula coaching school this summer. Wes Fesler, head football coach at the University of Minnesota, and Pete Newell, Michigan State College coach, will be the principal speakers. The school is scheduled for July 31-Aug. 2 at Northern Michigan College, Marquette. It's the sixth annual. Coaches from Upper and Lower Michigan and northern Wisconsin will be attending.

Morley Fraser, Newberry's very successful high school football and track coach, will be the speaker at the Loretto High School athletic association's annual banquet on May 1 at Baraga Auditorium, Sault Ste. Marie. James C. Myers, Michigan Tech coach, will also speak. Fraser is an accomplished speaker and his address at the Gladstone football banquet last year was very well received. Fraser's Newberry Indians were voted champions of the Upper Peninsula following the 1951 grid season.

Only two Upper Peninsula athletes appear on the 1952 tentative list of candidates for Spring football practice at the University of Michigan. Ben Pederson, Marquette, is a letterman at tackle. Wayne Melchiori of Stambaugh is a senior and has had experience at center. Pederson is the bigger of the two at six-two and 215 pounds. Melchiori is six-feet tall and weighs 185.

Speaking of the University of Michigan, here's a fact that isn't too well known. Bennie Oosterbaan, present Michigan grid coach, is the only three-time all-American in Wolverine football history. Oosterbaan made it as an end in 1925-26-27.

Name Eddie Ernst New Pro At Escanaba Club

Eddie Ernst, golf pro who has spent his entire life in the sport, has been named pro-manager of the Escanaba Golf Club, it was announced today by President Harry Needham.

Ernst, who comes here from Eagle River, Wis., with his wife Marge, first became interested in golf as a young caddy. Since those early days he has worked as a pro and has been associated with many of the finer golf clubs throughout the country.

The new Escanaba pro was at the Evert Golf Club in Eagle River for the past five years. Previous to that he was associated with the Edgewater Golf Club of Chicago, one of the finest in the country. Ernst also served for five years as assistant at the Indian Creek Country Club, Miami Beach, Fla. He is originally from Highland Park, Ill.

Open Soon
"We'll have the pro shop stocked with equipment and open for business in about a week," Ernst said yesterday. "Players are already out on the course, playing winter rules, and it won't be long before we're going full swing."

"We're happy to get a man of Ernst's caliber," President Needham said. "He's got a good, long golfing background and comes here highly recommended."

Extensive repairs and improvements on the Escanaba clubhouse are being made for the coming season. Redecorating and remodeling will be finished by the first of May.

Picture Window

One of the improvements is a large picture window facing the course, replacing the French-style windows, and giving a perfect view of the links.

The Escanaba club is currently launching a membership drive under the direction of Fred Pollak.

A schedule of opening events and social functions will be announced shortly.

The new golf pro succeeds Bill Mark who served as pro-manager last season.

Cleveland Win Streak Is Stopped By Browns

By JACK HAND

(Associated Press Sports Writer)
You might say the St. Louis Browns "Byrne up" the Cleveland Indians.

Tommy Byrne, the ex-Yankee wild man, who found control on the banks of the muddy Mississippi, can't stand to see the Tribe on a winning war dance.

Last August the Indians came to St. Louis with a wampum string of 13 straight wins. Along came Byrne. And then there was none. Last night the Indians brought a near-record seven-game win streak to town. Once again Mr. Byrne got out his old lefthanded toma-

Baseball Briefs

BOSTON — (AP) — Jim Pier-sall, a new Red Sox shortstop, is making Manager Lou Boudreau a happy man these days. The Boudreau protege is batting at a robust .387 clip and is fielding well, making only one error while handling 40 chances cleanly.

CHICAGO — (AP) — Vic Wertz, slugging outfielder, of the Detroit Tigers, hasn't been doing any slugging this season. Wertz again went hitless against the White Sox yesterday and his batting average dwindled to .069.

BAKERSFIELD, Calif. — (AP) — Martin Carresquel, brother of the Chicago White Sox Chico Carresquel, pitched a shutout in his American debut.

The young Venezuelan right-hander pitched Bakersfield to a 5-0 shutout over Visalia in the California State League Monday night. He allowed only four hits, struck out five and walked six.

PITTSBURGH — (AP) — Ralph Kiner, Pittsburgh Pirate home run slugger, has been advised to get a job in an air-conditioned office.

The advice came from an allergy specialist who had been analyzing an allergy condition that affects Kiner periodically.

The specialist told Kiner yesterday he is allergic to drafts and dirt—two things he encounters daily while chasing fly balls in the Pirate outfield.

Kiner said he had no comment on the recommendation at this time.

hawk. No record. No win streak. Almost no lead.

Close Gap
Byrne's eight-hitter and 8-3 victory left the Browns only a half game behind the front-running Tribe. It was enough to make a crowd of 15,119 sit through a drizzle.

When the Browns' early 3-0 lead narrowed to 3-2 on Al Rosen's homer in the seventh, Roger Hornsby's giddy crew piled up five more runs in the seventh. Rosen with a homer, triple and double was the only Indian who troubled Byrne. The 32-year-old lefty walked only one and hit only one as Cleveland lost its first game.

Another budding streak was kept alive when Chicago dumped Detroit, 2-0, for the Tigers' eighth straight loss. Five more and the Tigers can tie their own major league record of 13 consecutive defeats at the start of the 1920 season.

Saul Rogovin, an ex-teammate, blanked the reeling Tigers with six hits while Nelson Fox touched Ted Gray for a double and two singles. Johnny Lipon's error and Fox's double that bounced off Don Kolloway's glove broke up a scoreless duel in the eighth.

Kids Star

The "new faces" campaign continued to pay off for Lou Boudreau's Boston Red Sox as rookie Bill Henry, a 24-year-old lefty from Shreveport, won his second straight, 10-5, over Washington. Jim Piersall, the kid shortstop, collected three hits and Dom Di Maggio had four, including a home run.

Johnny Sain, once a curve ball ace in the National League, came through with a fine three-hitter for the New York Yankees to hand the Philadelphia A's their sixth straight loss, 3-1. After Elmer Valo homered in the first, Sain retired 20 in a row before he walked Ferris Fain.

Those Chicago Cubs continued to act like the toughest kids in the block as they hammered Pittsburgh pitching for 17 hits in a 13-2 romp. Dee Fondy was the ring leader with four hits.

Brooklyn threw its southpaw punch against the Boston Braves again and swept a two-night doubleheader, 2-1 and 3-1, behind Chris Van Cuyk and Preacher Roe. Although Max Surkont and Jim Wilson struck out a total of 17 Dodgers they couldn't win.

Big Triple

Surkont who fanned eight men in the first four innings of the opener, escaped the loss when he fared for a pinch-hitter. Reliever Bert Thiel was touched for Roy Campanella's game-winning single in the ninth after himself fanning two Dodgers. Duke Snider's two-run double ruined Wilson in the sixth inning of the second game.

Bobby Thomson, starting to hit after a slow start, racked up the Phils' Russ Meyer with a bases loaded triple in the New York Giants' 4-1 win. Larry Jansen scattered eight hits and had a shut-out until Willie Jones homered in the eighth.

Vinegar Bend Mizell, the St. Louis Cards' colorful southpaw rookie, lost his first start to Cincinnati, 2-1. Two walks and a triple by Joe Adcock in the first inning gave Cincy its runs.

Manager Eddie Stanky and shortstop Solly Hemus were thumbed out by Umpire Scotty Robb in the third-inning fuss that turned into a Stanky-Robb shoving match. Al Brazle, Card pitcher, was tossed off the bench later for too violent protests.

Texan Gets Third In ABC All-Events

MILWAUKEE — (AP) — The hopes of Texas were upon Jack Kibbee yesterday and the 26 year old accountant from Fort Worth spilled enough wood to forge into third place in the all events at the American Bowling Congress tournament.

Coming in with a 744 team series which he acquired Monday night with the Topsy's Cafe Red Stars, the second highest series ever fired in team shooting in ABC history, Kibbee added a 536 doubleheader, just one pin shy of second place currently occupied by George Young of Detroit.

His jolt produced the only standings change among the top ten, except for a tenth place tie in team class.

Hank Marino, Milwaukee alley owner and voted the bowler of the last half century, fired 567 in singles, but could muster only 483 in the doubles. His partner, Charley Horvath, added 527 for 1,010.

Eight Teams Join Bay De Noc League

PERKINS — Reorganization of the Bay de Noc Baseball league was accomplished here last night with the same eight teams rejoining the loop.

Back in Bay de Noc action will be Manistique, Cooks, Trenary, Garden, Fayette, Rapid River, Perkins and Cornell. Curtis was represented and indicated an interest in joining the league.

Board of directors decided to hold back on admitting Curtis until one other team is available, making the circuit a 10-team outfit. Nahma was represented at the meeting but was unable to field a team because of shortage of players.

The league will open on May 18 with a 14-game schedule slated. The schedule will be drawn up at a later date.

Bud Gibbs of Perkins was re-elected commissioner and Joe Richards of Brampton renamed secretary-treasurer. Victor Thibault of Nahma was named deputy commissioner.

Next league meeting will be held at Perkins May 2.

White Birch S-Ball Meeting Thursday

All players interested in trying for positions on the White Birch softball team are invited to attend an organizational meeting Thursday night at 8 at the White Birch Tavern in Flat Rock.

White Birch is a member of the Escanaba American League.

Feeling Is Deep

"But he hasn't won the esteem of the ballplayers," Cobbledick continued. "On the contrary, the Tigers' anti-Rolfe feeling is so deep and so violent that some close observers have gone so far as to predict a blow-up comparable to the 'Vitt rebellion' of the 1940 Indians."

"But it seems apparent now that the Tigers aren't going to perform well under Rolfe—not because they would shirk on the job, but only because their acute unhappiness will make it impossible for them to play winning baseball."

Fading Team
"How well they would perform under another manager is a question. The Tigers are a fading team, with no visible prospect that the trend can be checked in the near future. Their current line-up is growing old and their farms are bare of talent."

"What Rolfe might have done had he had a steady flow of new material coming in from the farms, or if he had been able to make trades, is something to guess at."

"In 1950, he was acclaimed as manager of the year when he kept his team in first place virtually for the entire season, only to fall out of contention in the last fortnight."

"It was generally conceded then that he had an uncommonly bright future as a manager."

"Now, it is evident that he has no future at all. Not, at any rate, in Detroit."

No Spitter

"Oh, it's those Boston fellows," the lean looking southpaw from Arkansas said. "They were beefing that I'm throwing a spitter."

Preacher Roe Takes Issue With Batsmen

BROOKLYN — (AP) — Preacher Roe, the usually mild-mannered Brooklyn Dodger southpaw, was mad—good and mad.

"Those guys out there," he asked of nobody in particular. "What do they want of us pitchers? Haven't they taken enough away from us already? They're always complaining about the way we pitch, about the way we stand on the mound. They even resent the way we look at them. What do they think? That the game of baseball was invented solely for their benefit?"

It was difficult to determine at first who Roe was complaining about. For that matter, it was difficult to determine why Roe was complaining at all. What would a pitcher who has won 24 of his last 27 decisions over a two-season span have to complain about anyway? Especially after he had just whipped the Boston Braves, 3-1, with a neat seven-hitter for his second trip of the season without a loss.

Dells Softball Team Practices Thursday

Trade Winds Blow As Toothless Tigers Lose Eighth Straight Game

DETROIT — (AP)—You'll see trading and rebuilding for sure if the almost-hitless, clawless Detroit Tigers keep staggering.

The club hasn't won a game yet. No other major league team can say that.

"But we're not panicky yet," said General Manager Charley Gehring today.

His Tigers were generally picked for a first division berth in the American league. But yesterday the Tigers stumbled to their eighth straight defeat and third shutout. The White Sox beat them in Chicago, 2-0.

Better Than That

"This would have to go on for awhile before we would start wholesale rebuilding," Gehring said. "The ball club is better than it looks."

"But if the losing does go on, of course, we'll rebuild. And mostly through trades to get younger players."

Six more consecutive defeats and the Tigers would break the record for the worst start in the history of the major leagues.

The record holding 1904 Washington Senators and the 1920 Tigers lost their first 13 games.

The Tigers battled the White Sox 0-0 for seven and a half innings with Chicago's Saul Rogovin and Detroit's Ted Gray pitching.

Gray was the victim of some shaky support in the eighth, the inning that the White Sox got their two runs.

Scoring Inning

Chico Carrasquel drove a bounder to short near second on which Johnny Lipon threw poorly to first for an error. Nelly Fox then smashed a drive down the first base line which caromed off Don Kolloway's glove for a two-bagger, scoring Hector Rodriguez who had started the inning with a single.

The run was all the Sox needed, but Eddie Robinson contributed a pop single to right, scoring Carrasquel.

Again the Tigers got a well-pitched game. And again they didn't hit.

"We'll win a game any day now. But it begins to look like our pitcher that day will have to pitch a shutout," said Gehring, grinning wryly.

"And it may take extra innings before we get the winning run."

Just what kind of rebuilding does he plan?

Not From Buffalo

"We won't take any players away from Buffalo (the top Tiger farm club)," said Charley. With the Buffalo club are speedy outfielder John Phillips and power-hitting outfielder Russ Sullivan, the Tigers' top minor league prospects.

Would Charley give up such established stars as third baseman George Kell or outfielder Vic Wertz, both in a hitting slump, to get young players?

Would he give up second baseman Jerry Priddy, pitchers Virgil Trucks and Ted Gray or outfielders Hoot Evers and Johnny Groth?

"I couldn't say who we would give up. It might be anyone. But whatever we do, we want to avoid getting any more older players on our club."

A slow club that specializes in singles, the Tigers need power hitting and speed. Manager Red Rolfe feels the pitching is good.

Today he planned to hurl Trucks against Joe Dobson in the White Sox series finale.

The Tigers move to St. Louis for a Thursday night game and then return to Detroit for Saturday and Sunday games with the Cleveland Indians.

Rolfe Gets Sympathy From Rival Manager

CHICAGO — (AP)—Manager Red Rolfe of the bedraggled Detroit Tigers, who have yet to win an American league game this season, got some sympathetic advice today from a rival pilot.

"You can't snap a losing streak by worrying about it," counseled Paul Richards of the Chicago White Sox who yesterday handed the Tigers their eighth straight loss.

The Tigers meet the White Sox today in the windup of a two-game set.

"After a manager does all he can to prepare a team for a pennant race, the rest is up to the team," said Richards.

Sweat It Out

"No club of Detroit's caliber figures to lose eight in a row, but here it happens. And there is nothing Rolfe can do about it but sweat it out."

"They don't get that little break here or there that often means a win for you."

Richards said such a break worked for the Sox in their 2-0 shading of the Tigers yesterday.

It came in the eighth inning with Sox runners on first and second with one out.

Nellie Fox drove a hard smash at Tiger first baseman Don Kolloway.

"It looked like a nice fast hop for a double play," recalled Richards, "but there's a tricky twist or Kolloway is too anxious. Anyway the ball caromed off his glove for a two-bagger."

Loss Confidence

"Instead of a double play ending the inning, we get the ball game."

There is only one danger about a prolonged losing streak, in Richards' opinion.

That is if the players lose confidence in each other. They never lose confidence in themselves.

Won't a loss-plagued manager worry about his job?

"If he worries about that, he might as well get out of this business before he gets into it," grimly observed Richards.

Yesterday's Stars

Batting, Dee Fondy, Cubs—hammered Pittsburgh pitching for homer and three singles, scoring three runs and driving home two in 13-2 romp.

Pitching, Tommy Byrne, Browns—halted Cleveland's seven-game winning streak with neat eight-hitter, 8-3.

During spring training at Vero Beach, Gil Hodges of the Dodgers won a fishing contest with a seven and three quarter pound bass.

Home Run Rash In Association

(By The Associated Press)

A rash of home runs enlivened American Association action Tuesday with Louisville's 22-year-old pitcher, Tom Herrin, grabbing honors with a grand-slammer.

Herrin, who twirled a seven-hit victory, aided his own cause with his clout during a nine-run Louisville fourth inning that buried Columbus with a 12-3 defeat.

League-leading Indianapolis racked its sixth win in seven starts with a home-opening 10-4 victory over Toledo.

Earl Turner and Milt Neilsen each slammed two-run homers for the tribe. Stan Spence, Don Wheeler and Ken Guettler hit four-baggers for the Hens.

A six-run inning pushed Milwaukee to a 10-7 decision over St. Paul. Minneapolis downed Kansas City 4-1 but Andy Tomasic needed help in the ninth after filling the bases with two out.

Hugh Oser came in and fanned Vic Power on three pitched balls.

Big Ten Baseball Race Will Start On Weekend

CHICAGO — (AP)—After a month of warm-up games, the Big Ten baseball pennant chase will start this weekend with all teams in action.

Defending champion Ohio State invades Michigan State for a two-game series Friday and Saturday while Iowa is at Minnesota, Northwestern at Indiana, Wisconsin at Purdue and Illinois at Chicago.

Poor weather this spring has hampered four teams that did not make a southern tour. Their schedules of tune-up games were cut to a minimum. They are Illinois, Indiana, Purdue and Wisconsin.

Better Start

The other clubs got in some good practice down south and are expected to be better prepared to start the season.

Michigan State won eight out of 12 games on its tour and may be a top pennant contender. The Spartans have enough lettermen on hand to fill every spot. Center-fielder John Risch, with a .333 average in the south, is the only non-veteran to break into the lineup.

Northwestern will bid for the first division with an improved pitching staff headed by lettermen Bus Carlson and Dick Inman and hitting power that blasted a .311 team average on the spring trip.

Michigan's team hitting is .300 and the Wolverines also have promising pitching. Sophomore Jack Corbett has notched two shutouts.

Writers Split On Grid Poll

EAST LANSING, Mich. — (AP)—Michigan's sports editors split almost 50-50 yesterday on whether or not to publish high school football ratings in their papers.

The unofficial vote, 10-8 in favor of the controversial poll, came at the annual spring meeting of sports editors of Associated Press member dailies. The polls were assailed last fall by some coaches and educators because they created "dangerous pressures."

The editors passed the subject on to sports committee of the (AP) managing editor's group for further study. Jim Henderson, sports editor of the Muskegon Chronicle, served as chairman.

Jim Shanahan, sports editor of the Benton Harbor News-Palladium, was named chairman of the special, newly-formed group of sports editors of 19 (AP) member newspapers in Michigan. The group will study sports coverage for the state's medium-sized and smaller (AP) members.

Riot Leaves Prison Yard In Shambles

By JAMES A. O. CROWE
JACKSON, Mich.—(AP)—Under armed guard, a group of reporters, photographers, newsreel and radio men toured the riot-wrecked area of Southern Michigan prison today and found it a shambles.

About 25 of us set out from the main rotunda surrounded by a squad of 10 state troopers armed with rifles and shotguns and equipped with a walkie-talkie to call aid if necessary.

Warden Julian N. Frisbie instructed us to stick close together and to stay away from 15 block where the most desperate criminals still hold 11 guards hostage.

Kitchen Usable

The huge institutional kitchen had suffered some fire and vandalism damage, but it still is usable—in fact it is now in use preparing meals for distribution in the cells.

We found the dining hall severely damaged.

Moving into the yard where some 500 prisoners milled uncontrolled yesterday, we found the most amazing welter of food, dominoes, type from the print shop, smashed musical instruments, rushed typewriters, books and papers we had ever seen.

Acres of ground were covered with the mess.

In several places we found where the inmates had dug pits to build cooking fires, half-carved hams hung on fences and were scattered on the ground. Cheese, bacon, lard, split cans of food were all found in the debris.

Language Obscene

A cluster of partly smashed musical instruments gave evidence of an impromptu band concert during the riot.

Strangely, however, the berserk criminals left unmolested the hospital, which stands alone amidst the grounds, and several birdhouses perched on slender poles where the birds are busily raising their spring families.

Inevitably, as we came into the view of the penned-up prisoners, hoots, shouts, and clanging bars greeted us. The convicts, some of them still in an ugly mood, yelled at us to approach them to hear their complaints. On the advice of our guards, we ignored them.

Mixed in with these requests was a constant patter of the most obscene language some of us had ever heard.

Returning to our touring of damaged buildings, we entered the general service building to find the prison library, one of the most progressive in the nation, completely gutted. The stacks of books, which contained a complete law reference library, were a heap of blackened ashes. Still in the general service building, the print shop, gymnasium, chapel, band room and many of the other rooms suffered varying amount of damage. The laundry building was completely burned out and part of the roof had fallen in.

Store Looted

The inmate store, another separate building which was looted of its candy, cigarettes and other contents during the riot, also had been set afire and gutted.

The greenhouse had been ablaze and the whole center section had fallen in. There was hardly a whole pane of glass left in the greenhouse. Miraculously, most of the flowers had not been tampered with until the newsmen came along and decorated their lapels with carnations, sweet peas and zinnias.

Former Publisher Of Baltimore Sun Is Taken By Death

BALTIMORE — (AP) — Paul Chenery Patterson, former head of the Baltimore Sun papers who wanted to be remembered as "always a newspaperman," died Monday night after an illness of several months. He was 73.

He had retired Jan. 31, 1951, as president of the A. S. Abell Co., publishers of the Sun, the Evening Sun and the Sunday Sun.

Born in Jacksonville, Ill., Nov. 18, 1878, he broke into newspaper work at 18 as a part time sports writer for the Chicago Tribune.

When the Chicago Examiner was launched as a morning paper in 1902 William Randolph Hearst hired him as its city editor.

He went to Washington two years later and covered the White House and Congress for the Herald and served as city editor.

Joining the A. S. Abell Co., in 1911 as managing editor of the new Evening Sun, he was later business manager of the publishing firm and became secretary-treasurer. In 1919 he was elected president of the company and a member of its board of directors.

Indo-China Papers Raised In Price

SAIGON, Indo-China—(AP)—Newspapers have just boosted their sales price by 50 to 100 per cent.

Depending upon where in Indo-China a newspaper is delivered, the cost of the daily paper now will be 15 cents in nearby provinces, and 20 cents elsewhere.

The old price was 10 cents. Newspapers advised their readers rising production costs caused the price boost.
